

Getting to know one another

Getting to know one another

In the first two weeks, there's lots of learning for you and your baby – especially about each other.

- Your baby seeks your attention: to feed, to get comfy, to sleep and to play. Responding to your baby quickly and lovingly shows them they can trust you.
- Holding, cuddling and lots of warm skin-on-skin contact is a great way to bond and get special time with your baby.
- Your baby loves the sound of your voice. Chat, read and sing to your baby. Use a calm, quiet voice to tell them what's happening.
- Look after yourself. Your Maternal and Child Health nurse can help you with questions about your baby and being a parent.

For more information, talk to your Maternal and Child Health nurse, call 13 22 29 or visit raisingchildren.net.au

Produced by the Centre for Community Child Health at The Royal Children's Hospital and the Murdoch Childrens Research Institute for the Victorian Government Department of Education and Training. © State Government Victoria 2016, KAS: 2 weeks. Illustration by Jane Tanner. ERC150764

