HP.com Business to Business User Guide

Users Reference guide

The following outline will provide you with a quick reference to the HP B2BPortal features and capabilities. The first step in the outline is to Login to your HP B2BPortal.

If you are an HP.com Business to Business user, you will need to access the HP B2BPortal site, from the following URL: http://www.hp.com/go/ebusiness

To access the portal, use your appropriate Username (E-Mail address) and Password, which was provided to you during the Online Registration Process.

Information Site

You will then able to access the HP B2B Portal home page. Within the home page, you can access several areas or links, the important ones are as explained below:

- "My activities" area allows users to add/delete up to 10 quick links. The quick links can either be link standard order and quotes or account documents.

- "What's new" area includes the welcome message, the 5 most recent targeted message texts, and the 5 most recent new account documents from the account team.

- "My news & Info" area provides the most up-to-date driver information, white papers, case studies, HP news, and solutions related to the user's account and profile.

- "Edit your profile" link takes user to their profile information to personalize the homepage and change password.

The "Order Status" field will show the current status of the order. Clicking on the "Order Status" hyperlink pops up a window that will lists the history of the status changes along with the date when the status changed.

On the "Order Reporting" page, you will be able to generate Standard reports, use sample reports or create customized reports. The sample reports include orders placed/shipped for past one month or backlog orders.

You can schedule the reports on a daily, weekly or monthly basis and send the reports via email to yourself or other users.
