

Name of the service/product:

Respect, Protect, Connect

Brief description of the service/product

The Project provides young people with early intervention and prevention programs to strengthen their connectedness to their family, school and community. The Project is a collaborative partnership between two organisations- with the young women component provided by Women's Health in the South East (WHISE) and the young men component by South Eastern Centre Against Sexual Assault (SECASA) that offers a coordinated and complimentary approach to assisting young people in need.

What the service can offer schools to support their sexuality education

Workshops can focus on one of a variety of topics including:

Anti-violence and Anger management, Positive Relationships, Masculinity, Bullying, Relationship Violence, Sexual Harassment, Dealing with Violence, Safe Partying.

Costs

To help cover the cost of running this invaluable program we ask schools for a very reasonable donation of $140 per organisation for a full day of workshops or $100 per organisation for a half day or less of workshops.

Any limitations of the service (e.g. geographical, only secondary or primary school setting)

This program targets Secondary Schools throughout the Southern Metropolitan Region however we can go outside this boundaries on occasion.

Anything else

The workshops are run as single-sex workshops and cater for up to 20 students per session.

An average workshop runs for a double school period.

We can run either a one off session or a multiple week program according to your school's needs.

Contact information (and website address etc)

Kristine Hill

Young Women's Program Coordinator

Women's Health in the South East

Level 2, 54-58 Wells Street, Frankston

9783 3211

kristine@vicnet.net.au

www.vicnet.net.au/~whise

AND

Chris Mitchell

Young Men's Program Coordinator

South East Centre Against Sexual Assault

9928 8741

chris.Mitchell@southernhealth.org.au