The Victorian Careers Curriculum Framework\(^1\) is an online resource aimed at assisting young people to manage their careers lifelong.

The Victorian Careers Curriculum Framework (the Framework) provides a scaffold for a career education program for all young people from Years 7 to 12 and for young learners with VET providers and in the Learn Local adult community education sector. It supports the work of teachers, trainers and careers practitioners in the preparation of young people to make a successful transition into further education, training or employment.

The Framework has been developed under the National Partnership on Youth Attainment and Transitions, a joint initiative of the Australian and State and Territory Governments.

The Framework supports careers practitioners to assist young people to:

- Understand and manage influences relating to career planning and lifelong learning;
- Develop skills, knowledge attitudes and behaviours to make career decisions;
- Apply their learning to achieve educational and career aspirations;
- Build resilience in their capacity to manage change throughout their lives; and
- Develop and update an annual Career Action Plan that reflects their increased learning, builds on previous planning and identifies future actions.

Three Stages of Career Development

Learning and teaching resources within the Framework are organised into three stages of career development:

- Self development: young people understand themselves and the influences on them, build their experiences and achievements and develop their capabilities;
- Career exploration: young people locate, investigate and consider opportunities in learning and future work options; and
- Career management: young people make and adjust Career Action Plans and manage their life choices, changes and transitions.

Learning Outcomes

At each stage of learning, a range of Framework learning outcomes have been designed to reflect a developmental continuum of learning.

A young person’s progression through the Framework learning outcomes may not be linear. Although the learning outcomes are attributed to different year levels, the year levels should be used as a guide only, with an individualised grouping of learning outcomes devised to match individual needs.

Six Steps of Career Self-Management

Framework learning outcomes are also structured around the six steps to a young person’s acquisition of skills and knowledge for lifelong career self-management. Young people complete all six steps each year with a focus on a different step each year. The six steps are:

- I Discover: young people discover their strengths and talents;
- I Explore: young people explore the world of work and their place in it;
- I Focus: young people focus on their values and interests;
- I Plan: young people use decision-making skills to plan their learning and career programs;
- I Decide: young people decide on their best options and opportunities; and
- I Apply: young people apply their skills and knowledge to their learning and career planning.
Career Action Plan Templates

The Career Action Plan is a dynamic planning document owned and managed by young people intended to capture their increased career development learning. The Career Action Plan helps young people to develop their awareness and understanding of education, training and employment options required for their preferred course of study, and to develop the skills, knowledge, attitudes and behaviours to effectively manage their careers and transitions throughout their lives.

The development of a Career Action Plan is designed to assist young people to set their goals, to clarify the actions needed to achieve these goals, and to commit to participating in the planned activities. The Career Action Plans incorporate the three stages of career development: self development, career exploration and career management. It is most effective when used in conjunction with the learning outcomes and related activities identified within the Framework.

Young people should complete a Career Action Plan every year from Years 7 to 12 and while enrolled with a VET provider or in the Learn Local adult community education sector. The Career Action Plan should be continually revised to reflect the career development activities undertaken throughout the year. Maintaining a Career Action Plan is a process, not a one-off activity.

Alignment with the Australian Curriculum

The Australian Curriculum sets out the core knowledge, understanding, skills and general capabilities important for all young Australians. The Australian Curriculum describes the learning entitlement of young people as a foundation for their future learning, growth and active participation in the Australian community. It makes clear what all young Australians should learn as they progress through schooling. It is the foundation for high quality teaching to meet the needs of all young Australians.

General capabilities in the Australian Curriculum encompass the knowledge, skills, behaviours and dispositions that, together with curriculum content in each learning area and the cross-curriculum priorities will assist young people to live and work successfully in the twenty-first century. They comprise an integrated and interconnected set of knowledge, skills, behaviours and dispositions that young people develop and use in their learning.

The Australian Curriculum has identified general capabilities addressed through learning areas. However, teachers may find further opportunities to incorporate explicit teaching of general capabilities depending on their choice of activities, such as through a career development program. Young people can also be encouraged to develop capabilities through personally relevant initiatives of their own design.

Both the Australian Curriculum ‘general capabilities’ and Framework ‘learning outcomes’ play a significant role in realising the goals set out in the Melbourne Declaration on Educational Goals for Young Australians. The essential skills for young people in the twenty-first century are described as being able to:

- manage their own wellbeing;
- relate well to others;
- make informed choices about their lives;
- become citizens who behave with ethical integrity;
- relate to and communicate across cultures;
- work for the common good; and
- act responsibly at local, regional and global levels.

Schools/organisations are encouraged to build on and contextualise the sample alignment templates in the Appendix between the Australian Curriculum and the Framework to meet the needs of their unique learner cohort and school/organisation priorities.

The Australian Curriculum can be accessed/is available from:

Framework Learning Outcome | Australian Curriculum General Capability
--- | ---
Year 10
- Examine the concept that every decision is a career decision by creating and maintaining your career portfolio | Literacy
  - Composing texts through speaking, writing and creating

Year 9
- Use career information resources to locate information on occupational and industry trends, education and training trends, social and economic trends | Numeracy
  - Recognising and using patterns and relationships

Year 7
- Understand the range of career information resources through networks, the Internet, television and newspapers, that provide occupational and industry information | ICT capability
  - Investigating with ICT

Year 8
- Understand and analyse how personal characteristics (attitudes, interests, values, beliefs and behaviours) influence career decisions | Critical and creative thinking
  - Analysing, synthesising and evaluating information

Year 10
- Understand the importance of allies (i.e. friends, family and supporters) to maintaining a positive self-concept | Personal and social capability
  - Social management

Year 8
- Identify their beliefs and value systems and their influence on self concept | Ethical behaviour
  - Reflecting on personal ethics in experience and decision making

Year 7
- Understand the concept of stereotypes, biases and discriminatory behaviour in relation to career and work options | Intercultural understanding
  - Empathy

Activities
A range of activities can be undertaken in order to address the Framework learning outcomes. The learning outcomes do not necessarily need to be completed consecutively, however earlier self development and career exploration activities do assist young people to complete career management activities.

A range of existing career development resources containing suitable activities are available and can be integrated into a career development program. Examples of these activity resources include:
- Careers and Transitions Resource Kit (CTRK);
- VE&amp;T Way to Go;
- Resource for Career Practitioners (ReCaP);
- Australian Blueprint for Career Development (ABCD);
- myfuture.

Multiple activities may be required to achieve the learning outcome. Activities can be undertaken throughout the year.

Examples of self-development activities that young people in Year 10 could complete include:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Framework Learning Outcome</th>
<th>Sample Activity</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Understand the importance of allies (i.e. friends, family and supporters) to maintaining a positive self-concept. |  | Identify people who are able to help with personal career development including employment opportunities (CTRK, ‘Access your allies’).
  |  | Identify personal strengths and better promote oneself for a position as an employee, team member or volunteer (ReCaP, ‘Personal perceptions’).
  |  | Add to career portfolio by asking an ally to write a character reference.
| Assess how personal characteristics and behaviours are reflected in your life, learning and work goals. |  | Develop an understanding of employability skills (CTRK, ‘Employability skills’).
  |  | Profile goals, progress, achievements and competencies in an organised, accessible and purposeful format (ReCaP, ‘Personal portfolio’).
  |  | Use the Job Guide to determine the personal requirements of specific occupations of interest.
| Discover personal and professional benefits of developing a positive self-concept and the consequences of developing a negative one. |  | Identify and present positive perceptions of self (CTRK, ‘Promoting myself’).
  |  | Think about and challenge internal messages, and replace positive messages for those that are negative, to develop the self-confidence to overcome obstacles to success (ReCaP, ‘Positive self-talk’).
• Participate in ‘speed interviewing’ to improve first impressions and self-confidence in interpersonal situations.

Templates are available in the Appendix to further align the Framework learning outcomes to school/organisation-based activities.

Resources

A number of resources have been made available to support the implementation of the Framework:

• Career Action Plan templates;
• Additional Support for Targeted Groups (advice for tailoring the Framework for young Koorie people, young people from English as an Additional Language backgrounds, young people from low-socioeconomic communities, and young people with disabilities);
• Learning outcomes for each year level;
• Teacher advice for each year level;
• Details about achieving learning outcomes:
  o Delivery timeframe advice
  o Links to VELS (for Years 7 to 10)
  o Planned classroom activities
  o Learning and teaching resources
  o Sample assessment advice to achieve the learning outcome
  o Sample assessment task
• Links to the ABCD;
• Teaching resources;
• Teacher planning questions; and
• Additional activities.

All suggested learning outcome activities in the Framework link to existing resources. Examples of Framework learning outcomes and resources that may be useful when working with young people in Year 9 on their career management include:
