<td>3.1 Industry / enterprise/ community needs</td>
<td>This accredited course supports national and state government policies which focus on providing opportunities for inclusion and re-engagement for people experiencing disadvantage and/or those with low skills to investigate and access employment pathways. This includes young people who have left school early, mature learners with low skills seeking to re-enter the workforce, workers in low skill jobs who have been retrenched, offenders in juvenile justice centres or correctional facilities, women seeking to re-enter the workforce and Indigenous Australians. The course also enables school based learners to investigate potential pathways that could support them to develop the work skills they need to transition to employment.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

There are currently a number of National and Victorian policy initiatives which aim to provide opportunities for disadvantaged people to re-engage with education and training pathways, for example, the Empowering YOUth Initiatives and Victorian Reconnect initiatives which support new, innovative approaches to help long-term unemployed young people aged 15 to 24 years to improve their skills and move toward sustainable employment.

A report by the Foundation for Young Australians (FYI) identifies the barriers faced by young people in transitioning to employment. These include:

- struggling to navigate a career path in a rapidly changing world of work
- prolonged periods of unemployment and under employment
- self esteem and mental health issues
- lack of interview and job application skills

The report identifies the need to include careers learning activities and work exposure opportunities as well as identifying the enterprise skills.
required by employers and the pathways to support their development. FYA, The New Work Reality (2018).

In its 2018 report Workforce Development Needs: Survey Report 2018, the Australian Industry Group (AIG) surveyed employers to identify their workforce development and skills needs. Specific skill issues identified by employers responding to the survey included concerns about workplace literacy and numeracy and skills such as self-management, planning and organising, knowledge of chosen career and problem solving, initiative and enterprise.

There was also dissatisfaction with school leavers in the areas of self-management, planning and organising (45 per cent dissatisfaction) and problem solving, initiative and enterprise.

An Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (ACCI) report: Learning to Work: a helping hand for young Australians (2014), argues that it is widely recognised that there is a need to focus on the successful transition of young people from education to work. Young people who are not engaged in work or full-time education are more likely to become disengaged for longer periods.

Although more specific to schools, a University of Melbourne report identifies as one of its key messages the need to redevelop or reconceptualise all certificates I and II as industry/occupation exploration or ‘career start’ qualifications primarily for use by school students. Clarke (2014)

The Certificate I in Employment Pathways is a preparatory VET course which enables learners to investigate a range of industries and workplaces of interest and introduces them to workplace expectations and work preparation skills and personal strategies to approach this more effectively. This is achieved through contexts such as:

- preparing for initial work and/or further learning by exploring work preparation options and pathways
- developing and documenting an action plan for career planning
- identifying strategies to enhance personal effectiveness to support employment or further learning and accessing and using information about selected industries and the skills they require.

Consultation

A number of activities were undertaken to establish the current and projected need for the course and included:

- Analysis of enrolment data for the period 2015 to 2018
- Review of relevant Federal and State Government policy
- Review of provider websites and Training.gov.au data
- Telephone conversations with providers
- Desktop review of literature

Enrolment Data
Government subsidised enrolments in the 22280VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways have declined sharply since their peak in 2013. In 2013 there were 44,524 enrolments which largely represented a response to government policy at the time. Since then changes in government funding policy have contributed to a marked decline in Government Subsidised Training for this certificate. Accordingly there has also been a decrease in the number of registered training providers with the qualification on their scope of registration however there are still currently 23 training providers with the certificate on their scope of registration.

The data below represents government subsidised and fee for service course enrolments for the 22280VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways between 2015 and 2018. Overall the data indicates consistent enrolments between 2015 and 2017 with a noticeable decrease in 2018 for both government subsidised and Fee for Service enrolments.

The data below represents school based course enrolments for the 22280VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways between 2015 and 2018 through VET Delivered to Secondary Students. It is likely that this data is reflected in the Fee for Service figures above. Typical usage in schools involves completion of specific units from the certificate rather than completion of the full certificate. There has been a noticeable increase in enrolments between 2015 and 2018.

Contexts of use

The 222280VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways, or units from it, is used in diverse learning environments and with diverse learning cohorts. Learner groups include:

- disengaged youth
- learners referred from Job Actives
- older adults re-entering the workplace
- VCAL students and early school leavers
- pre-apprentices
Learning environments include:
• as a pre-employment course
• with or in addition to pre-apprenticeship programs
• transition between high school and work
• with a specific focus, for example business and customer engagement

Feedback from providers indicated that the Certificate I in Employment Pathways was beneficial in enabling learners to explore potential pathways, industries of interest and in developing plans to access pathways or employment. The certificate is used in different ways including as a full qualification as well as use of individual units. The certificate is generally used as part of jobseeker programs linked to Job Active requirements and other programs such as the Federal Government’s Youth Jobs Path program and the Victorian Government’s Jobs Victoria Employment Network program. The Certificate has also been used to meet explicit employer needs through programs with a specific focus such as business, customer engagement and timber trucking. It has also been used in conjunction with pre-apprenticeship programs.

Initial consultations undertaken identified a number of key areas for review as follows:
• course structure to strengthen pathways into specific industries
• broader elective options to support pathways
• current unit content, outcomes and relevance

The reaccreditation of the Certificate was guided by a Project Steering Committee (PSC) comprised of the following members:
• Barbara Ryan  Work and Learning Advisor, Northern Futures
• Danielle McAuliffe  Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority (VCAA)
• Jacinta Stafford  JVEN Officer /Employment coach (Wyndham)
• Paolo Damante  AiGroup Senior Policy Officer, Education and Training
• Paul Hrasko  VET Coordinator Wyndham Community & Education Centre
• Ann Beales  Victoria University Polytechnic English and Preparation Programs

This accredited course does not duplicate, by title or coverage, the outcomes of an endorsed training package qualification. Other endorsed training products related to work preparation were reviewed. While the qualifications in the Foundation Skills training package have a work preparation focus, they focus explicitly on the development of literacy and numeracy skills and are aligned to the domains of the Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF) in an employment context, i.e. Learning, Reading, Writing, Oral Communication and Numeracy. The Certificate I in Employment Pathways focusses on developing a broader understanding of the world of work through investigation of work areas and industries, employer expectations and the skills to write a resume and apply for jobs. There are also training products which have been designed to provide pathways into specific industry areas, for example AUR10116 Certificate I in Automotive Vocational Preparation. These products are industry specific and not intended or able to be contextualised to develop broader employment related knowledge and skills and do not enable learners to investigate broader options.

A Skills and Knowledge Profile was developed to guide the outcomes of the qualification and was validated by the Project Steering Committee. The skills and knowledge outcomes include:

Knowledge of:
- OHS / WHS procedures and signs
- employment related resources and agencies
- sources of information on a range of industries
- sources of information to identify potential employment opportunities
- strategies for setting work related goals
- education/training requirements for specific jobs
- different aspects of personal effectiveness and how they affect life/work outcomes
- workplace behaviours and expectations

Communication and literacy skills to:
- use digital literacy skills to source and navigate relevant information related to selected industries and employment opportunities
- follow and apply OHS/ WHS and emergency procedures in specific industries
- follow safety signs, symbols and notices
- report OHS / WHS hazards and raise issues
- access and use employment and workplace information including written, verbal and numerical information
- compile skills portfolios and resumés

Self management skills to:
- identify and apply strategies to improve personal effectiveness
- identify ways in which barriers can be overcome
- identify own attributes and self development needs
- identify processes and stages to develop career action plan
- carry out tasks to meet timelines and priorities
- collect and organise information to develop a portfolio to document skills
- review effectiveness of plan in achieving goals with support person
- work collaboratively with group members
- give and receive feedback from group members.
- identify and monitor personal goals and develop a basic action plan for identified employment opportunities
- identify and implement strategies to meet workplace requirements

The Certificate I in Employment Pathways:
- does not duplicate, by title or coverage, the outcomes of an endorsed training package qualification
- is not a subset of a single training package qualification that could be recognised through one or more statements of attainment or a skill set
- does not include units of competency additional to those in a training package qualification that could be recognised through statements of attainment in addition to the qualification
- does not comprise units that duplicate units of competency of a training package qualification.

3.2 Review for re-accreditation

A mid cycle review was conducted in 2017. Feedback from providers indicated that the Certificate I in Employment Pathways was beneficial in enabling learners to explore potential pathways, industries of interest and in developing plans to access pathways or employment.

The 22523VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways replaces and is equivalent to the 22280VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways. The following table identifies the relationship between units from the previous iteration of the Certificate I in Employment Pathways and units from the current course.

5.2 Entry requirements

There are no entry requirements for the 22523VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways.

Learners enrolling in the 22523VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways are best equipped to successfully undertake the qualification if they have minimum language, literacy and numeracy skills that align to Level 2 of the ACSF. More information on the ACSF can be accessed here.

Learners with language, literacy and numeracy skills at lower levels than those suggested may require additional support to successfully undertake the qualification.

6. Assessment

Standards 10 and 12 AQTF Standards for Accredited Courses

6.1 Assessment strategy

All assessment, including Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL), must be compliant with the requirements of:

- Standard 1 of the AQTF: Essential Conditions and Standards for Initial/Continuing Registration and Guidelines 4.1 and 4.2 of the VRQA Guidelines for VET Providers,

  or

- the Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015 (SRTOs),

  or

- the relevant standards and Guidelines for RTOs at the time of assessment.

Assessment should reflect the AQF level of the qualification.

RTOs must provide access to an appropriate work placement and an appropriate support person to enable assessment of the unit VU22103 Participate in a practical placement with support.

Assessment strategies for the course should:

- incorporate feedback of individual progress toward, and achievement of competencies
- address the skills and knowledge which underpin performance
- gather sufficient evidence to judge achievement of progress towards determining competence
- utilise a variety of different processes/sources, such as written, oral, observation, projects appropriate to assess knowledge and performance

7.1 Delivery modes

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Standard 11 AQTF Standards for Accredited Courses</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The skills and experiences of learners in the 22523VIC Certificate I in Employment Pathways may be diverse and delivery strategies should be selected to enable learners to develop competence in the skills and knowledge contained in the units. Face to face delivery modes should allow for active involvement of all participants. Additional support should also be provided through programs such as mentoring and peer support where appropriate. Delivery should take into account the educational backgrounds and experiences of learners and the constraints of the individual learner and ensure learning and assessment methods are sensitive to their specific needs. Some areas of content may be common to more than one unit and therefore integration may be appropriate. Delivery strategies should actively involve the learner and learning should be experiential, relevant and age appropriate. Training providers should ensure that relevant OHS / WHS units are delivered early in the program and learners assessed as competent prior to any participant of the course being involved in an industry or work placement related to the course. The personal nature of the unit VU22786 Develop personal effectiveness may see learners examine and expose some sensitive and personal information. Trainers should therefore be aware of the potential reluctance of some learners to undertake this unit. Trainers and assessors should be aware of possible responses and should develop support strategies to ensure learners do not feel threatened or unable to participate. It is intended that the unit VU22788 Develop an action plan for career planning be delivered concurrently with other units of competency in the course. The learner must have the capacity to review and change the action plan, if necessary. The elective unit VU22103 Participate in a practical placement with support requires work placement and will require the RTO to provide access to an appropriate work placement and an appropriate support person. The RTO must monitor placements regularly and address any issues of concern to the learner or the employer. Issues may include but are not limited to safety, allocation of meaningful work tasks and performance of duties. RTOs should be aware of state or territory legislative requirements and their own responsibilities when placing learners with a work placement organisation for the purpose of training. The Victorian Department of Education and Training has issued the following document to assist RTOs and employers meet their work placement obligations:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Guidelines issued by the Department of Education and Training Victoria for Registered Training Organisations and Employers in relation to Post-Secondary Students undertaking Practical</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Placements (Updated Practical Placement Guidelines) as at 10 April 2017 (available here).

Where students enrolled in a school are undertaking this unit, placements need to be undertaken in line with the Department of Education and Training (DET) requirements for Structured Workplace Learning.

RTOs should also meet any relevant legislative requirements for volunteering or vocational placement for learners undertaking the course in adult settings.

The RTO will need to establish protocols with the host employer/organisation providing the work placement so that the roles and responsibilities of all involved – host employer/organisation, RTO and learner – are clear, manageable and of mutual benefit.

Work health, safety and environmental/occupational health, safety and environmental (WHSE/OHSE) requirements around work placements and agreements between RTOs and host employers/organisations will vary across jurisdictions. RTOs will need to make sure that the workplace provides:

- a safe environment for learners
- relevant WHSE/OHSE training and worksite induction before the work placement begins
- appropriate supervision during the placement.

RTOs should ensure they meet the insurance obligations of their registration against the Standards for Registered Training Organisations and obtain advice from their RTO regulator and/or WorkCover insurance provider.

Small businesses may require the training organisation to provide more intensive support for the learner, particularly early in the placement.
