

3. Simon sagt!

► Instructions

This game can be played by the class as a whole, or in small groups.

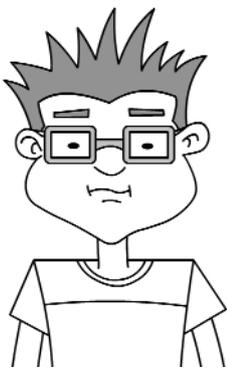

One student is chosen to be Simon.

The others stand in a straight line. Simon then calls out in German the part of the body which classmates must touch.

Everyone must follow this instruction. If students don't do it, or touch the wrong body part, they are out and must sit down - "Du bist aus!"

If Simon calls out an instruction without saying "Simon sagt", any students who obey this instruction are out and must sit down - "Du bist aus!"

The last person standing wins, and becomes the next Simon.

Simon sagt: Berühre

Simon sagt: Berühre
deine Knie!
